A BRIEF HISTORY OF THE DESCENDANTS OF NICHOLAS AND HANNAH PEES

History is always fascinating. A survey and study of the lives of our predecessors, of their institutions, give the present generations an insight to and understanding of their responsibilities. There is always some field in which each generation must pioneer. It may be social, political, industrial, educational, or economical, any part or all. In a new country pioneering entails hardships and sacrifices. Man accepts the results of the efforts of his progenitors without proper appreciation.

Our ancestors' settlement of this new land meant sacrifice and hardship. They had to face the dangers of the aborigines, to enlist the natural resources to furnish a livelihood and to formulate religious, social, civic and economic institutions to serve civilization in their new environment. The pioneer always meets unexpected challenges and what he leaves to posterity is a tribute or stigma to his efforts. History records no greater epic of man than that of the life of the pioneer who formulated and founded the institutions that direct and control the life of man in America. His fundamental philosophy was "The Equality of Man," a fundamental Christian principle.

This principle of life is so firmly entrenched in our civilization that it turns back upon the lands of the origin of the pioneer.

This little brochure attempts to partially set forth the genealogy of one of these pioneers who, with his eldest son, participated in the Revolutionary War, a contest between the "Inequality of Man" and "The Equality of Man." The results proved a tribute.

The descendants of this pioneer are scattered over this broad land from the Pacific Coast to East of the Alleghenies. While a few have entered the professions, the greater number have tilled the soil.

In 1865 a Connecticut clergyman by the name of Pease published a voluminous history of the Peases, tracing its history back to 970 A.D., in which year Otto II, Emperor of Germany, conferred a Coat of Arms upon a General Pease (Pees), a copy of which is reproduced elsewhere in this publication.

The Author has taken the liberty of publishing excerpts from Chapters I and II of the above-mentioned "History."

Origin of the Pease Family

"The Peases emigrating first to America came from England. The name has been common there for the past three hundred years, or as far back as parish registers have been kept to show it. A work published in England as early as 1472, mentions the name of John Pease, LL.D. Persons of this name are found there in all ranks of society—from the most respectable yeomanry to ministers of the Gospel, bankers, projectors of the first public railways, members of parliament, etc.

The English Peases are said to be of German origin and their emigration is placed at a much later period than when the Saxons made their conquest in England. We have been informed by one who has seen it that an English work giving a history of the Peases in England states that they came from Germany some four or five hundred years ago. It would seem by the coat of arms displayed that the English Peases were in Germany as late as A.D. 971, as Otto II was Monarch of Germany from 972 to 981. The name is found in Germany now and persons bearing it have emigrated from that country directly to this. The name has different orthography in Germany (Pies or Pees), but those coming to this country not unfrequently change the orthography of it to conform with the Anglo-Saxon mode.

It has been suggested that the name Pease may have originated some way by its association with the esculent plant called peas. It is probable it might have, and the origin quite ancient. Coats of arms used in families often give a clue to the origin of the name. It will be observed by the coat of arms granted by Otto II that its crest has an eagle's head erased, the beak holding a stalk of pea-haulm, which makes it appear that the Pease family was in some way associated with the pea-plant.

The honor of being the first pioneer to America of the name belongs to Henry Pease. He is supposed to have come from England about the time Governor Winthrop did (1630) and settled in Boston. His name is found occasionally upon the town records of that place. He was made Freeman in 1634. He had two wives: First, Susan, died in August, 1645; second, Bridget. He died August 7, 1647. In mentioning his decease, Governor Winthrop called him "my old servant." This fact renders it probable he had been in the employ of Governor Winthrop for some time. He had three children, viz: John, Henry and Susan."

The Pease family has furnished a Governor for the State of Texas, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Ohio, numerous officers and surgeons of the United States Army and Navy, ministers, physicians and educators, as well as leaders in the commercial and industrial interests of America.

SIC JTUR AD ASTRA
(So he rises to the Heaven)

Optime De Patria Meruit
(He deserved the best from his country)

This coat of arms, a relic of the early ancestors of the Pease family, was granted originally under the reign of Otto II, Emperor of Germany. It has been preserved for many generations in the branch of which the late Joseph Robinson Pease, Esq., of Hesslewood, near Hull, England, was a member, and used by him. He presented it to the American Branch through the late Frederick Salmon Pease, Esq., of Albany, N. Y.

A copy of it has been inserted in this work, not for its intrinsic value as an emblem armorial to be borne by any of the name in America, but because of its importance as a historial illustration of the origin, antiquity and name of the Pease family, viz:

Per Fesse Argent and Gules, and Eagle displayed counter changed.

Crest—An eagle's head erased, the beak holding a stalk of pea-haulm, all proper. Said to signify that the person to whom it was granted had been a commander, but not in chief.

The faith that motivated the life and activity of the pioneer and subject of this brochure could not be better expressed than he has expressed it in his Last Will and Testament, which follows:

In the name of God, Amen. I, Nicholas Pees, of Strabane Township, Washington County, and Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, being weak in body, but of sound mind and memory, blessed be God for same, do make this last will and testament, in way and manner following: First—I give my soul to God that gave it to me, and my body to be buried in a Christian-like and decent manner at the direction of my executors, not doubting, but at the general resurrection I shall receive the same again by the mighty power of God. And as to such worldly estate, as it hath pleased God to bless me with in this life, I give and dispose of the same in the following manner and form: First, I ordain all my lawful debts and funeral charges be paid out of my personal estate by my executors, and I give unto my well-beloved wife, Hanna, the sum of sixty dollars for year during her natural life. Forty dollars of it is to be paid to her by my son, Andrew Pees, and twenty of it to be paid to her by my son, George Pees, each year. I give and bequeath unto my beloved son, Andrew Pees, and to his heirs and assigns forever a part of my plantation on which he now dwells, on which the mill stands. The residue of my plantation that remains after that, I now bequeath unto my son, George Pees. Which to make it more plain and intelligible I give and bequeath unto my son, George Pees, that part of my plantation on which he now dwells, beginning at a corner between me and James Thom, and thence running along the line of the plantation that was James Scott's line, as when turning off and running about a north course through the improvement until it extends out of the improvement about three perches and thence running about north west between my son, Andrew Pees, and my son, George Pees', field until keeping out field about four perches until it strikes James Herron, along said James Herron line, along the great road until it strikes McWhirter's corner, nigh Herron's Smith shop, line to the place of beginning, taking in, by about, the thence running along McWhirter's line and James Thom aforesaid course as will contain one hundred and eighty-seven acres with usual allowance for roads. Which I give and bequeath unto my son, George Pees, his heirs, and assigns forever. And when that is surveyed off to my son, George Pees, then all the remainder of my lands I give and bequeath unto my son, Andrew Pees, together with all the mills and improvements therewith belonging to him and his heirs and assigns forever. But I will that that part of the land and himself is subject to pay unto my daughter, Mary McGlumphy, two hundred dollars, and one hundred dollars unto my daughter, Susanna Hutchison, and two hundred dollars to my daughter, Catherine Carson, and two hundred dollars to my daughter, Hanna Kerr. To be paid to them by my son, Andrew, after my decease, but by him producing sufficient receipts of any part of it being paid, he is to be clear of all that he hath paid already. And I will that my son, George Pees, and the land that I have willed and bequeathed to him be subject to two hundred dollars that I will to my daughter, Margaret Carson, and one hundred dollars that I will to my daughter, Susanna Hutchison, after my decease, but him producing sufficient receipts of any part of it being paid before, he is to be clear of all that is paid before. Likewise I appoint James Kerr and James Roney, my trusty friends, executors of this, my last will and testament, and I hereby revoke and renounce all former wills and testaments by me made, and I declare and pronounce this and no other to be my last Will and Testament. In witness whereof, I, Nicholas Pees, have hereunto set my hand and seal this thirteenth day of January, in the year of Our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and eighteen. Signed, sealed and pronounced by the said Nicholas Pees as his last Will and Testament in presence of us and in presence of one and other.

Joseph Vaughan
William Herron
Moses McWhirter

N. B.—Before signing I will that my son, George Pees, pay to my daughter, Betsy Lisk, the sum of two hundred dollars, and when he produceth sufficient receipts of payment being made to her he is to be clear of her.

NICHOLAS PEES (Seal)

The following are the only court records of Nicholas Pees:

These records are from the files of the proceedings of Court of Yohogania County, Va., now Washington County, Penna.

August 25, 1778—Deed from George III, King of England, to Nicholas Pees and order to be recorded.

May 24, 1779—On the motion of Nicholas Pees setting forth that he is desirous of erecting a grist mill on "Shirtees" Creek on which he has lands on both sides, but that he cannot do it without condemning an acre of the property of Joseph Edgington and Isaac Kenny. Ordered that the Sheriff do summon a jury to attend on the premises to lay off a value of the Sd. Acre of Land and make their report to next court.

Comment:

The jury evidently found for the plaintiff and the court confirmed the jury's findings as the dam was built and is still in existence.

GENEALOGICAL RECORD OF THE DESCENDANTS
—OF—
NICHOLAS PEES

The author has been unable to secure a genealogy of Nicholas' children, except that of his son, George. A few descendants of his son, Andrew, and daughters, Susanna, Mary and Hanna, are known, but records are not available for a complete genealogy. Errors and lack of completeness is due to the fact that nearly all data was secured through correspondence.
